

Police Car Redesign

The Irving Police Department has rolled out a new design for its squad cars, replacing the old design that has been in use for 16 years. The fleet design incorporates the city's new logo, and will be changed as vehicles need to be replaced to avoid incurring additional costs.

"We worked with a design committee of police officers to develop a distinctive, highly visible look that our residents, the city and our department can be proud of for years to come," said Police Chief Larry Boyd.